

Ryan L. Newman, CFA

Vice President – Private Wealth Management

Ryan was hired by Goldman Sachs in 2000. He advises wealthy individuals, family groups, private companies and non-profits on asset allocation, investment management and wealth planning. He graduated first in his major with an Economics Degree and as a Schreyer Scholar from Penn State University. While at Penn State, Ryan conducted research in Cameroon for his honors thesis in Demography. He presented his findings, which were subsequently published, at the Population Association Conference, held in Washington, D.C. Ryan began his career at Goldman Sachs customizing and implementing asset allocation models for clients whose total assets represented $4 billion in assets and is a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) Charterholder. Ryan is a member of the Board of Directors of the Smeal College of Business Alumni Society Board at Penn State. He was Co-Founder of Smeal Survivor, a business simulation sponsored by the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS), a non-partisan DC-based Think Tank and Penn State. Ryan has served on the Smeal College of Business Alumni Society Board of Directors since 1998. He is Vice President of Finance for the American Jewish Committee Philadelphia Chapter and a Board of Director for the Foundation for Free Enterprise Education which presents Pennsylvania Free Enterprise Week. Ryan is a member of the Association for Corporate Growth (ACG).