PFEW 2013 – The “Magic” Begins!!

The pictures on this page show the smiling faces of some of the teams and students who took part in PFEW 2012. As you are reading this article, we have moved our entire staff and all of our volunteers to Williamsport, PA and are now working with the smiling faces of the first “class” of students attending this summer’s program. On July 3rd, we “caravanned” to our “homes away from home” on the campuses of Lycoming College and Penn College where we are presenting the 35th year of our internationally acclaimed PFEW program.

journey”. Each “corporation” will operate their imaginary business for three years utilizing our proprietary computer simulation.

At week’s end, each management team will prepare and present both a “Stockholders’ Annual Meeting” for imaginary shareholders in their company, and a “Marketing/ Advertising Presentation” to a

As you know from our recent e-letters and newsletters, it’s been another record-breaking year for student recruitment. At this writing, we have received 3,058 applications and have more than 1,900 students scheduled over our four sessions in July and August. To put this in perspective, our previous record for applications in a single year was 2,986 and our largest program ever hosted 1,769 participants. Due to the extraordinary amount of applications we have received, there is a long list of students (sophomores) on a waiting list with promised seats for next year’s program.

This summer there will be a total of 96 teams (“companies”) engaged in spirited competition emblematic of the free enterprise system, with prizes for the individual winners and overall best teams at the end of each week. We have an array of exciting speakers, interactive activities and other projects for our 2013 participants to enjoy as they explore the world of private enterprise, taking their “PFEW group of professionals for their particular product. Those two scored competitions, along with the two that come directly from the computer simulation, will determine which team wins the “Top Company” award for the week.

We launch and celebrate our 35th year with excitement and enthusiasm for the young people with whom we will be working over the next two months. PFEW 2013 would not be possible without the support of our devoted volunteers (more than 200 this summer) and of our fabulous donors who have provided scholarships for each and every participant. More than 700 companies, foundations, civic organizations and other groups worked together to help us prepare this summer’s program.

In the pages that follow, we have recognized virtually all of our invaluable supporters and partners. We will close this issue of PFEW News with a heartfelt “thank you” to everyone who helped us prepare a program that will stimulate and excite our young people to be the very best they can be as they become part of the American Free Enterprise System. Happy summer!

Details in September!!

PFEW 2013 Keynote Speakers

Our students are treated each year to presentations from scores of speakers who address them daily on a variety of business-related topics. Our Keynote Speakers appear on Monday evening, which is the students' first full day on campus and that address sets the tone for the coming week. They challenge our students to make the very best use of the wonderful opportunity afforded them by their acceptance to PFEW. This year we are blessed with four very special men who have volunteered for this all-important role and selfless commitment to our mission.

Gene most recently served as a member of Gov. Tom Corbett's Marcellus Shale Advisory Commission and has served as a board member of Preservation Pennsylvania.

Our Precious Partners

Anyone who has spent time traveling in Pennsylvania's sixty-seven counties appreciates the size of our wonderful state and the hundreds of communities regionally that give us such a diverse population and history. PFEW is marketed in each of the more than 1,000 high schools in PA for our participants and to more than 65,000 businesses each year for student sponsorships and program volunteers. With our Foundation's staff numbering only six full-time employees, there is absolutely no way we could accomplish what we do without the support and endorsement of our "partnering" business organizations throughout the state that believe so passionately in our mission. The two primary constituencies that provide that valuable assistance are the manufacturers'/business associations and the chambers of commerce of Pennsylvania that do mailings, publish newsletter articles and host events extolling the importance of the program for Pennsylvania's future. Each of the organizations listed below with their chief executive and Board, devoted extraordinary time, effort and resources in exciting their members about PFEW. Each deserves their own recognition article but this issue would then resemble a telephone book. They are the best of the best, however, and it gives us great pleasure to dedicate this page to their efforts which are resulting in our ability to host more than 1,900 of Pennsylvania's best and brightest hopes for the future at PFEW this summer.

Week 2 Volunteer Spotlight –

Michael and Jessica McElhaney

Mike McElhaney came to PFEW via the Educator's route. He lives in Warren, PA and teaches at Warren Area HS. For years, he heard Michelle Warofka, schools manager at PFEW, come into his classes and tell the students about this wonderful PFEW experience held in Williamsport. Finally, with some prodding from Michelle, he decided to make the trip to Williamsport and see what all of the excitement was about. That was in 2008 and he hasn't missed a summer since. Now, not only does Mike continue to volunteer, he began bringing along his then fiancée, Jessica Shoemaker, also an Educator in the Warren area. Wedding bells recently rang for the couple and this will be their first summer at PFEW as "Mr. and Mrs. McElhaney".

When asked what he has learned from his PFEW experience Mike said "I have learned that there is something for everyone at PFEW. There are so many lessons and life skills that will be useful in the future for the students and are just part of the great experience that is PFEW. When Jessica was asked what she has learned she responded "PFEW not only teaches students about the free enterprise system, but gives each student the opportunity to show his or her strengths in multiple areas of interest."

During his free time Mike enjoys canoeing, hiking, fishing... well, basically anything outdoors! His favorite color is blue and his favorite food is butter and onion pan fried potatoes and cheese pierogies.

During Jessica's free time she enjoys creating artwork, outdoor activities and baking. Her favorite food is stuffed meatloaf with cheese and ham and her favorite color is purple.

Recent Travels and Gifts

For more than twenty years, the Waynesburg Chamber of Commerce has been promoting PFEW throughout its service areas. John recently had the pleasure of addressing the Chamber membership at their monthly luncheon. He was joined by Dayton Walker, a senior at West Greene HS, who gave very moving comments about his PFEW experience in 2012. Here, John and Dayton present Chamber President Melody Longstreth with a Commendation Plaque from the FFEE Board of Directors.

Penelec/FirstEnergy has been one of PFEW's most loyal boosters virtually since our founding nearly thirty-five years ago. Recently, John received the FirstEnergy Foundation's 2013 contribution from Regional Penelec President Scott Wyman who will be Keynoting at the 2014 program and is also an FFEE Board member.

In May, John had the opportunity to deliver a luncheon presentation to the membership of the Mercer Area Chamber of Commerce where he was joined by Mercer HS students Elizabeth Smith and Walter Haines. The Chamber has been an enthusiastic supporter of PFEW's mission for more than fifteen years. Pictured (l. to r.) are John, Elizabeth, Walter and Chamber Executive Director, Dotty Pintar.

The Wellsboro Area Chamber of Commerce in Tioga County has long been a staunch advocate for PFEW's mission.

While on her travels, FFEE Vice President Karen Musante (l.) was able to present Lauren Morral (r.), Events Coordinator of the Chamber, with this year's Board Commendation Plaque.

Student Testimonials

Jaden Rankin-Wahlers
 Central Bucks HS-East,
 Bucks County
 Week IV, CEO Dash

"I can honestly say that Pennsylvania Free Enterprise Week was the best week of my summer, and it is an experience I will never forget. Out of everyone I met, the people I was closest to were the other sixteen individuals in my company. We went through the highs and lows of business together. We worked through the stress and managed to achieve something greater than we thought we could. I learned at PFEW that age and gender do not limit what we can do; it is only our beliefs that limit us. PFEW is a life-changing week where we learned life lessons and more. We talked in our company about issues we do not even mention to friends such as getting over the death of a loved one and alcoholism. This program is not just about business, it is about something greater. It is about personal growth. I am so thankful for this experience. I can only hope that others may share the same experience I had."

Kevin Giallonardo
 Mars Area SHS,
 Butler County
 Week IV, CEO Gravi-D

"When I decided to attend PFEW, I really did not know exactly what I was getting myself into. I expected to show up at the campus, learn a few things about the free enterprise system, and go home a week later. While I did learn a great amount about how businesses are run and the decisions that are made by companies, the most valuable part of the week was not what I learned about business. Rather, it was in the numerous friendships that I made and the opportunity that I was given to be a leader of a group of my peers. I met so many great people at PFEW, students, Company Advisors, and Speakers, and I was really able to grow as a person and leader as a result of my PFEW experience. I am so glad that I chose to attend PFEW, as I had a tremendous experience. I would highly recommend this program to any student, regardless of his or her career interests. This program is about much more than business and I truly enjoyed my week spent at PFEW."
